Darwin, God and the Meaning of Life

How Evolutionary Theory Undermines Everything You Thought You Knew

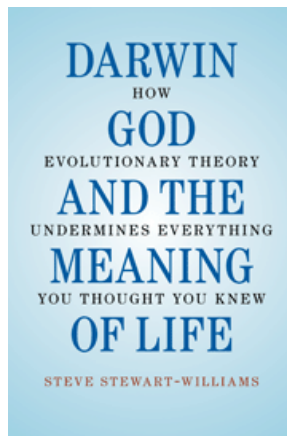

Steve Stewart-Williams

University of Wales, Swansea

Is religion compatible with evolution? Is religious faith intellectually flawed? Steve Stewart-Williams addresses these and other fundamental questions raised by Darwin's theory of evolution. Drawing on philosophy, biology and the exciting new field of evolutionary psychology, he makes a strong case for a naturalistic, atheistic view of the universe.

Conflict Resolution and the Everyday Politics of International Intervention

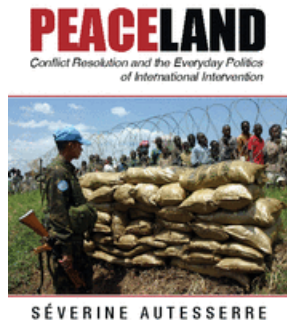

Séverine Autesserre
 Barnard College, Columbia University

This book suggests a new explanation for why international peace interventions often fail to reach their full potential. Based on several years of ethnographic research in conflict zones around the world, it demonstrates that everyday elements - such as the expatriates' social habits and usual approaches to understanding their areas of operation - strongly influence peacebuilding effectiveness.
